Tanbark Gemberling or the FBI to the Rescue - and Privacy 12/15/76

Gemberling statrted soliciting paid speeches while still an FBI employee.

He is to retire or to have retired this month. Herewith one of his solicitation letters of last month.

His fee is $1,500 plus first-class air fare plus 20¢ a mile ground travel.

If you think this addresses the phoney privacy issue suggest you white out the identifications and make and file copies.

I'd take the time to listen to a tape of his address. He worked it all out while on the FBI payroll, even to the time presentation takes. He wisely leaves only 20-30 minutes for q and a.
